Influences in my life

People and relationships

Think about how you feel with different people. Place names or initials in the circle that fits. A relationship may feel supportive at some times and difficult at others.

Use initials, words or drawings. The overlap is for mixed feelings. Leave any part blank if you prefer.

Which supportive connection would I like more of?

What would help me feel more comfortable in a difficult relationship?

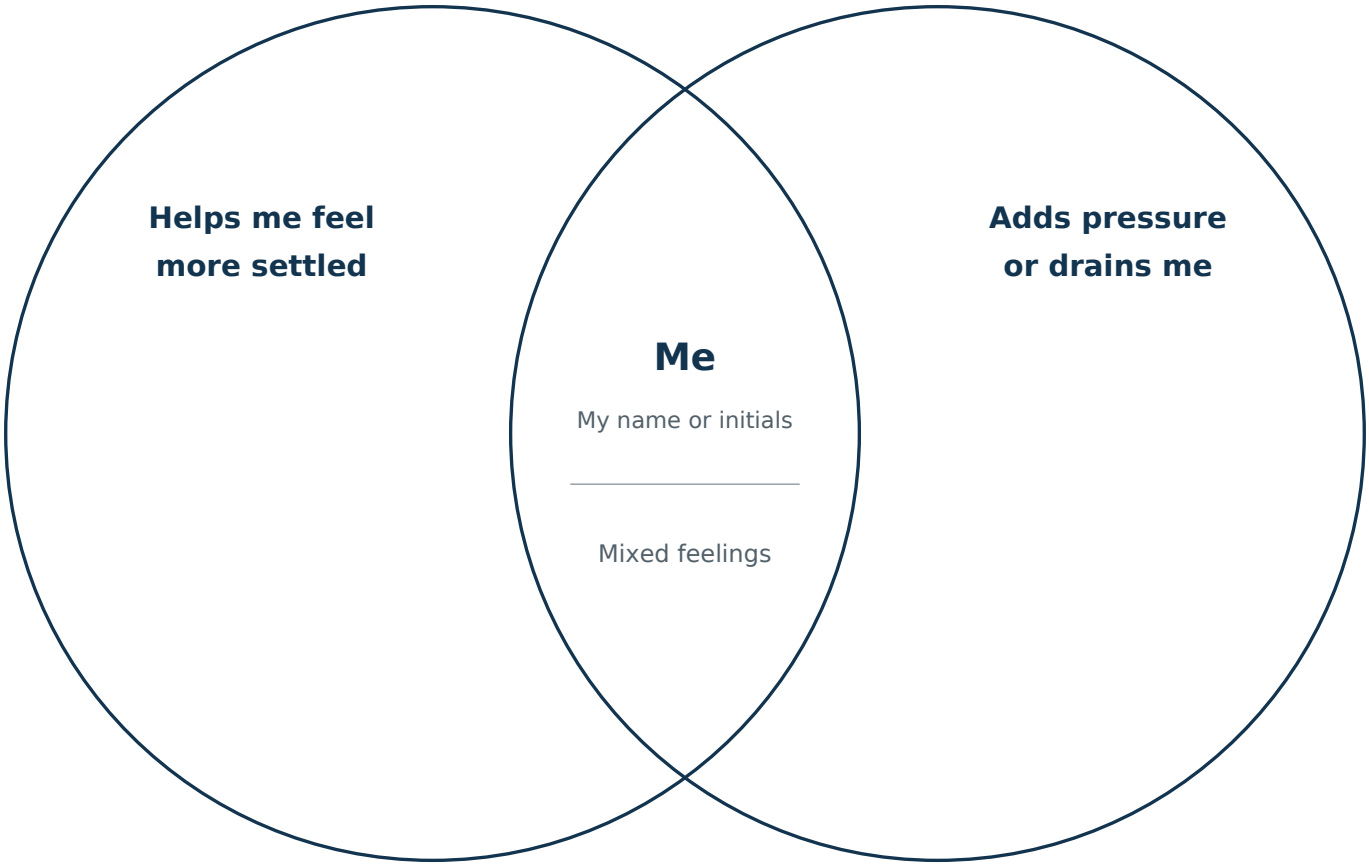

A personal reflection activity, not a clinical assessment. Share only what you choose.

Everyday influences

Activities, routines and surroundings

Think about what affects your day: rest, hobbies, work, social media, places or routines. The same thing may help in one situation and add pressure in another.

Use initials, words or drawings. The overlap is for mixed feelings. Leave any part blank if you prefer.

One helpful thing I would like to make more space for:

One small change I would like to try, or ask for help with:

A personal reflection activity, not a clinical assessment. Share only what you choose.